Walton Memorial Service Conducted By Bar Association

Exercises Held in Supreme Court; Resolution Is Adopted; Loughran Is Speaker

At 11 o'clock this morning in Supreme Court members of the Ulster County Bar Association conducted a memorial service in memory of the late Senator Charles W. Walton who died March 19, 1945. At the conclusion of the ceremony Justice Harry E. Schrick, presiding justice, spoke briefly and directed that the resolution of the Bar Association to be spread upon the minutes of the court and that a copy of the proceedings be sent to Mrs. Walton.

Roger H. Loughran, president of the Ulster County Bar Association, spoke briefly telling of the high regard and esteem in which Charles W. Walton was held by every member of the Ulster County Bar. In the absence of H. Westlake Coons of Ellenville, chairman of the committee on resolutions from the Bar Association, former County Judge Andrew J. Cook read the resolution which had been prepared by the committee of which Mr. Coons, Judge Cook, former Surrogate Harry H. Flemming and A. W. Lent of Highland were members. The resolution reviewed the remarkable career of Mr. Walton referred to the high esteem in which he was held by members of the local bar and the Bar of the State of New York which he served as secretary for many years and was serving at the time of his death.

Judge Cook moved for adoption of the resolution and referred to his own personal acquaintanceship with Senator Walton over a period of 40 years. He remarked on the genial nature and disposition of Mr. Walton, on his ability as a lawyer and on the wide acquaintanceship which he had in the state. Mr. Cook referred to the large clientele which Senator Walton had represented both at the time of the Ashokan reservoir proceedings and now in the Rondout-Delaware project of the city of New York, saying that Senator Walton enjoyed perhaps the largest and widest practice among those whose lands were taken of any attorney in Ulster county. In this work he made a very wide acquaintance among local people and among them all he was known as a genial and kindly man, a man whose influence will live long in the memory of the people of this locality and the state of New York.

Judge John T. Loughran, associate judge of the Court of Appeals, who had been Senator Walton's opponent at the time Mr. Walton ran unsuccessfully for the Supreme Court, spoke of the splendid character of Mr. Walton, of his disposition of Mr. Walton to be of help to every young lawyer and of the help which he had been given on many matters by the late Senator Walton. Judge Loughran in concluding said he would "never live long enough to forget the kindness and friendliness with which Senator Walton went out of his way to make my course in the profession of the bar easier for me."

Speaks of Friendship
Former Surrogate George F. Kaufman spoke of the close personal friendship which had existed between himself and Senator Walton when he said was his "next door neighbor," they occupying offices adjacent. He spoke of the "genius for friendship" which was Charles Walton's. He referred to this kindness which had caused Senator Walton to be one of the widest known men of the city, a man who could "call by name" most of the men he met as he walked along the streets of Kingston or throughout Ulster county. His outstanding relationship to the younger members of the bar was also referred to by Mr. Kaufman who said Senator Walton frequently "went out of his way" to make room for a young attorney in his office.

which Mr. Walton took in the affairs and meetings of the State Bar Association to make them successful and bring to the members some real benefit. He also spoke of the work of Senator Walton in the Red Cross work of the county and the civic work which he was always willing to undertake.

County Judge John M. Cashin spoke briefly saying that he had always admired Senator Walton as a lawyer and a scholar and as a man who always had interest in the younger members of the bar. He said Senator Walton frequently went out of his way to give aid to the young attorney and to smooth the path of the young man. In conclusion Judge Cashin said he never in his years of acquaintanceship with Mr. Walton had heard him speak an ill word of another person.

MacAffer Is Present
Kenneth A. MacAffer, law partner and member of the law firm of Wiswall, Walton, Wood and MacAffer, also spoke briefly. He referred to the time almost 20 years ago, when he came to the firm as a partner and came to know Mr. Walton. As a young man he had found Senator Walton a friend and advisor, a man who was ready to compliment a young attorney when he was successful at court and who was quick to console him when defeat came. He spoke of the even, friendly disposition of Mr. Walton and said that Senator Walton was ever proud of the fact he came from Ulster county.

In directing that the remarks be entered on the minutes of the court and the resolution be made a part of the court record Justice Schrick referred to Senator Walton as a "real lawyer and a real gentleman" who always believed in the honesty and integrity of the judiciary and a man whose memory would live long in the memory of the State Bar Association and local attorneys. Justice Schrick directed that the court stand in recess for fifteen minutes in memory of Senator Charles W. Walton and that when court adjourned this afternoon it do so in his memory.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 10 (AP)—Scattered stocks made a feeble stab at recovery in today's market but demand quickly tapered and the retreat was resumed on most fronts.

Individual comebacks before midday apparently were based on the outlook for peacetime prosperity. Talk of the President recommending that Congress reduce war agency expenditures by billions, with European victory complete, served to chill buying forces. Reconversion doubts persisted as a liquidating argument.

On the outside were Santa Fe, Great Northern, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, du Pont, Goodrich, Deere, American Smelting, American Can, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville and Eastman Kodak. Intermittent gains included Douglas Aircraft, Bell Aircraft and Gulf Mobile & Ohio.

Bonds were mixed and commodities lower.

550,000 went directly to LOCAL governments.

$65 was the average yearly payment for gas and electricity in each home, during 1944 Out of each dollar you paid for this service 22¢ went for taxes.

$14 per home was, therefore, the approximate amount of each home's average yearly payment which went for taxes. ($65 x .22)

One child in six

A substantial portion of the company's total direct tax provisions went to local governments—counties, cities, townships and villages. During 1944, taxes paid directly to local governments together with that portion which came back to local governments from the state ($550,000 plus $172,000) were sufficient to pay for the schooling of one child in every six living in the entire area served by the company, if used for this purpose alone.

Business Girls Have Mothers at Banquet

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet of the Business and Professional Girls' Club was held on Wednesday evening, May 9, at the Y. W. C. A. There were almost 100 members and guests in attendance. Miss Gregory, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. asked the blessing at the beginning of the dinner. The club president, Alberta Davis, welcomed the guests and then turned the program over to Miriam Halloran, program chairman. Miss Halloran introduced Miss Collette Magnusson who sang "If God Left Only You" by Denmore, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Helen Terwilliger.

Miss Anger Scott Smith then spoke on "Sojourner Truth"—A Negro Slave of Hurley. Sojourner Truth was one of the greatest Negro leaders born in Hurley in the late 18th Century. She was a slave in the Hardenberg family but was subsequently sold to another master. Her Christian name was "Isabella" but when she gained her freedom upon the emancipation of slaves in this state she took the name of "Sojourner Truth" and traveled all over the country in behalf of freeing the slaves and women's rights. By 1850 she was recognized with Harriet Beecher Stowe and Susan B. Anthony as one of the greatest women speakers. She had a beautiful voice and a commanding appearance and while she never made formal speeches as she was unable to read she always managed to dominate any audience where she spoke. During the Civil War Sojourner Truth offered her services to President Lincoln and helped in establishing hospitals and doing social service work. She lived in Michigan during her later life and died there at the age of 105.

Following Miss Smith's talk, Miss Beth Sherman accompanied by Miss Ruth Buddenhagen, sang "Take Joy Home" by Basset and then she and Miss Magnusson sang a duet "Oress Thy Check Against Mine" also accompanied by Miss Buddenhagen.

Next week there will be reports on the Operetta and the Interest Groups in bridge, choral work, dramatics and handwork, will meet.

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children and People," etc.)

MOTHER'S DAY

The following letter reminds me that this coming Sunday will be Mother's Day. It asks: "Is the husband of a family supposed to send his wife flowers or a gift? Isn't this supposed to be a day for the children to pay special attention to their mother and not the husband? In fact, shouldn't he remember his own mother if he has one?"

I think the writer of this letter is right. On the other hand, a husband properly may send his wife flowers or a present since she is the mother of his children. But the person he should not fail to remember is his own mother.

Most Formal Business Suit
Dear Mrs. Post: Is dark blue the only daytime suit that is considered a suitable substitute for a man's formal day clothes? I mean, when a man is not wearing striped trousers and cutaway to some function at which there are sure to be some men so dressed, is dark blue the best thing for him to wear?

Answer: Oxford gray is even better than navy blue, but few men have oxford gray suits and nearly all have blue. In any case, he wears the darkest sack suit he has.

An Unusual, But Certainly Not Unsuitable Notice

Dear Mrs. Post: I have often seen notices sent out by a firm of the death of one of its members. My question is would it be wrong for the family of a man who had hundreds of friends all over the world to send an announcement of his death to these many friends?

Answer: I think it would be entirely proper in this particular case, where the friends are separated widely and therefore could not find the news in their own papers.

Why Grandparents Are Unsuitable Godparents

Dear Mrs. Post: Why is it that grandparents so seldom are chosen as godparents? Surely they are much more interested in the baby than most of the parents' own friends. Also, what should be served at an "at home" after the christening. And should invitations be given verbally or written?

Answer: Grandparents are chosen rarely because they are related already as closely as could be made possible. The real object of godparents is that they shall supplement the baby's own relatives. It is also their principal duty to stand in place of the parents should the parents die before the child is grown. Therefore, younger godparents are the obvious choice. Refreshments usually include sandwiches and cakes with coddle as the beverage. Invitations are given either verbally or written across the top of the parents' double visiting card.

Glascio Soldier Gets Silver Star For Taking Nazis

Atlantic City, N. J.—Kidnaping may be a criminal act in the eyes of the law, but for his part in snatching a pair of Nazi soldiers practically under the very noses of their comrades, Staff Sgt. Philip A. DeGregoria, 29, of Glascio, who is now a patient in the Army's Thomas M. England General Hospital here, was awarded the coveted Silver Star.

Sergeant DeGregoria, a platoon guide with the 104th Infantry Division, volunteered for a patrol that was sent to nab a prisoner or two for questioning on the enemy's fortifications across the Ruhr river prior to a crossing of the river by American troops last February.

"There were ten of us in that patrol, which was led by our platoon leader, Lieut. Carl Stollies," the sergeant related. "We were to sneak up on a couple of Krauts and bring 'em back alive to do a little talking."

Finding a shallow and unguarded sector of the Ruhr, the patrol crossed over to the German lines, and in a commando-like thrust, captured two guards and divided into the cover of an enemy trench with their captives.

"Just as we took them, their comrades spotted us and opened up with artillery and small arms fire," Sergeant DeGregoria recalled. "We were armed only with tommy guns, and now that we had our prisoners, the trick was to hold on to them and get back across the Ruhr to our own lines. We crawled through that trench away from the enemy fire until we reached a point where we were able to make the return crossing."

Just how much the two Nazi captives talked, the sergeant wasn't able to say. But American intelligence officers must have gleaned some valuable information from them, for a few days later American troops were across the Ruhr in great force and driving the enemy deeper into the Fatherland.

For this daring act, Sergeant DeGregoria was awarded the Silver Star, Lt. Stollies, the patrol leader, was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, and the others who participated in this unique raid received Bronze Stars.

A few days after American troops crossed the Ruhr, on March 1, Sergeant DeGregoria suffered wounds to his right leg and a brain concussion from an enemy artillery shell which blasted in the midst of his squad. He was rendered unconscious for two weeks, and when he finally came to, found himself in a hospital in England, those intervening two weeks a complete blank to him.

A veteran of several major campaigns in Belgium, Holland and Germany, the sergeant was previously wounded in Holland, October 15, by shrapnel in his right shoulder, which put him out of action and into a field hospital in France for three weeks before he was able to rejoin his outfit.

In addition to the Silver Star, Sergeant DeGregoria also has been awarded the Purple Heart with a cluster, the ETO Medal with three battle stars, and the Good Conduct Medal.

He arrived at England General Hospital last month after having been flown back to the states on an Air Transport Command hospital plane.

The sergeant's wife, Emma, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick DeGregoria, reside in Glascio. In service 32 months, he went overseas in October, 1944, directly into combat.

New York Guard

The New York Guard—1775 to 1945

A Part of the Armed Forces of Our Country for 170 Years

Written by Capt. Montgomery Evans Assistant Public Relations Officer, New York Guard

Major Paul C. Raborg, Public Relations Officer to Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum and the New York Guard, says: "After 'V-E' Day there will be a greater need than ever before for the state troops of the New York Guard.

"When the fighting in Europe ends, our government will be faced with several new conditions. It will have to provide large garrisons of troops for occupied Europe. At the same time, many divisions will probably be sent to the Far East. Further, the government has already declared its desire to discharge as many men as possible.

"As long as the New York Guard is maintained at the full authorized strength of 24,000 men, efficiently trained, it will not be necessary for the government to divert federal troops for maintaining internal security in the state. The Guard troops of the United States can make it possible to discharge returning veterans.

"When fighting in the Far East ends, the Guard will face the greatest task in its history. At that time, all men in the federal forces will want to be discharged and go home to their families. In order to enable the government to release as many men as possible quickly, and to reorganize the federal armed forces, the Guard must hold the home front during the demobilization period of both men and industry. The reorganization of the Guard will probably come last.

"Men who enlist in the Guard now will not only be serving their state as the militia has done for 170 years, they will be hastening the return to civilian life of their sons and brothers now in federal service.

"The Guard needs over 5,000 men, at once. Employers of the state should do their share by guaranteeing to Guardmen their time in camp without prejudice to their normal vacations."

Police Guard Against Further Victory Riots

Halifax, May 10 (AP)—Strong patrols of military and civilian police today guarded against further outbreaks of victory riots which flared in four Nova Scotia towns, causing two deaths and damage estimated at more than $5,000,000.

Five persons were sentenced to prison terms of up to two years, eight others were fined as high as $100 and several thousand service personnel were confined to barracks. Military and civil authorities disagreed over where to place the blame for disturbances.

U-Boats Sink 3 Ships in Atlantic

Disasters Take 112 Victims in Closing Weeks of War With Germany

(By The Associated Press)

German U-boats sank three American vessels in the western Atlantic during the closing weeks of the war, while a fourth ship was damaged and a fifth went down off Cape Elizabeth, Me., after mysterious explosions. The disasters claimed an estimated 112 victims—dead and missing.

The stricken vessels: The Navy patrol ship PE-36 which sank off Maine April 26 after a mysterious explosion. Forty-nine lives were lost in the worst New England naval disaster of the war.

A "large United States tanker," loaded with high octane gas and kerosene, sunk off the northern coast of South America late in March. Dead and missing—approximately 50.

The tanker Swiftscount, torpedoed 150 miles off Maryland April 18. One life lost.

Collier Black Point, Torpedoed off Point Judith, R. I., May 5. Twelve crewmen missing.

The tanker Atlantic States, which made port despite an "underwater explosion" off Provincetown, Mass. No lives lost.

Pavement Marking Will Be Carried On

Albany, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Seventy-five per cent of the normal pavement marking program will be restored on state highways this year, Clifford J. Fletcher, state traffic commissioner chairman, said today.

Inability to obtain paint of adequate quality made it necessary to reduce the program to 50 per cent of normal in 1942 and to 25 per cent of normal in 1943 and 1944, Fletcher explained.

The normal program, begun in 1939, calls for painting of pavement markings on approximately 9,000 miles of highways in conformance with standards approved by the commission.

"Its value in reducing the possibility of accidents and in creating an orderly movement of traffic cannot be overestimated," Fletcher said.

Prospects for the 1946 program are uncertain, he added, because the type of paint required again is off the market.

Of stock now on hand, a quantity sufficient to paint approximately 35 per cent of the normal program is being held in reserve for 1946.

Clothing Subsidized

New Zealand's government at Wellington has evolved a plan to reduce costs of men's clothing through subsidies. Government payments will be made to manufacturers on a scale calculated to enable the producers to hold low cost items to December, 1942 prices.

Pig Crop May Be 3 Million Short Of W.F.A. Goals

Washington, May 10 (AP)—This year's pig crop may fall more than 3,000,000 short of goals set by the War Food Administration.

A recent Agricultural Adjustment Agency survey of farmers' production plans indicated a crop of about 90,000,000 head, compared with a W.F.A. request for about 93,000,000 head. The goal is 62,500,000 head greater than last year's production, but about 28,000,000 below the record 1943 crop.

One of the factors contributing to the current meat shortage was a 20 per cent decline in 1944 hog production. This drop followed a market glut during the winter of 1943-44 during which many farmers were forced to sell hogs at prices they claimed entailed severe losses.

U. S. Command Post Blown Up in Italy

Twenty-one Americans Are Hurt in Blast

Colle Isarco, Italy, May 8 (Delayed) (AP)—An American command post in this Brenner Pass town was blown up last night by what appeared to be a German time-bomb. Twenty-three persons—including 21 Americans—were injured. No deaths were reported immediately.

Investigating officers recommended that henceforth all buildings occupied by the Germans should not be used by Allied troops for 21 days. It also suggested that several Germans be scattered around the premises as further insurance.

George Favors Reduced Taxes

Individuals, Corporations Would Pay Less; Gives No Details of Cuts

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee favors "substantial" reductions in individual as well as corporation income taxes.

Such reductions should be made even if the war with Japan shows signs of continuing another year or two, George told a news conference yesterday, his first since his return from a European atrocity inspection tour.

"It is perfectly clear to me that we cannot hope for a restoration of peacetime business at high levels without a revision of the tax laws," he said. "That applies especially to individuals." George met newsmen shortly after war Mobilizer Fred M. Vinton had said in discussing post-V-E plans that no general tax cuts can be made until final victory.

George did not go into details of the cuts he had in mind, but said he hoped a proper bill could be worked out to take effect early next year.

The Mighty 7th War Loan Is In The Fight

So Save for Your Country - Save for Yourself

Let's loan our money to Uncle Sam to buy more tanks, half tracks, jeeps, trucks, rockets, mortars, planes. We must crush the foe, make an end of killing. Help the sick, wounded and our returning veterans...see that they get started in the proper way their lives to live...their lives that they were willing to give...so that we might live. Buy Bonds, more Bonds, lest we forget what they've done for us. And when peace comes we'll be financially prepared for new homes...a new start...or whatever we need. So Americans, let us all do our part for our Fighters' sake - for our own sake - and for the country's sake...put the Mighty 7th Over the Top.
